

The Tribune.

TERMS OF SUBSCRIPTION.

BY MAIL—IN ADVANCE—POSTAGE PREPAID.
Daily edition, one year..... $12.00
Particular Edition, one year..... 1.00
Sunday Edition, Literary and Religious Saturay Edition, $1.00..... 2.00
WEEKLY EDITION—POSTPAID.
One copy, per year..... 1.00
Club of four..... 1.00
Club of twenty..... 2.00
Supernumerary copies sent free..... 2.00
Give Post-Office address in full, including State and County.

Remittances may be made either by draft, express, Post-Office, or by mail.

TERMS TO CITY SUBSCRIBERS.

Daily, delivered, Sunday excepted, 25 cents per week.
Daily, delivered, Sunday included, 50 cents per week.

Address THE TRIBUNE COMPANY,

Corner Madison and Dearborn-sts., Chicago, IL.

POSTAGE.

Entered at the Post-Office at Chicago, Ill., as Second-Class Matter.

For the benefit of our patrons who desire to send single copies of THE TRIBUNE through the mail, we give below the transient rates of postage:

Eight and Twelve Page Paper..... 2 cents
Sixteen Page Paper..... 3 cents
Eight and Twelve Page Paper..... 2 cents
Sixteen Page Paper..... 3 cents

TRIBUNE BRANCH OFFICES.

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE has established branch offices for the receipt of subscriptions and advertising as follows:

NEW YORK—Room 29 Tribune Building. F. T. Mc-Phee, Agent.

PARIS, FRANCE—No. 10 Rue de la Grange-Bateliere.

EL. MARLER, Agent.

LONDON, Eng.—American Exchange, 46 Strand.

HAVANA, CUBA—Room 10, 10th floor, 10th Street.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—139 F street.

AMUSEMENTS.

Central Music-Hall.

State street, corner of Randolph. Concert entertainer. Miss Emma C. Thorsby.

McVicker's Theatre.

Randolph street, between Dearborn and La Salle. Entrance of the Collier Combination. "The Banker's Daughter."

Haverly's Theatre.

Dearborn street, corner of Monroe. Engagement of the Chicago Church Chor Company. "H. M. S.
Pinafore."

Hannin's Theatre.

Clark street, between Washington and Randolph.

Engagement of Miss Dixie Lillard. "Our Boys."

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 7, 1880.

Two more victims of the New York fire of Monday died yesterday, making in all six fatalities.

The Governor of Alabama has appointed Luke Pryor to fill the unexpired term of Senator Houston, deceased. The appointee was Mr. Houston's law partner, and has never held office.

The colored people seem to be having a monopoly of the extreme longevity business.
At North Adams, Mass., yesterday, old Aunt Mager, a black woman aged 115, and in Chicago a negro named Rebecca Whales, with 110 years to her credit, both passed away.

THE ATLANTIC & GREAT WESTERN RAILROAD was yesterday sold under foreclosure proceedings for $6,000,000 to a purchasing committee representing the English bondholders.
One of the immediate results of the reorganization of the road will be a reduction to the standard gauge.

The possibility of an almost total failure of the ice-crop is giving the brewers of Milwaukee much anxiety, and large numbers of laborers are at work getting in what remains of the fine freeze of two or three weeks ago, which has been reduced from twelve down to six inches in thickness. It is expected that a thriving trade will be enjoyed in ice cutting along Green Bay, as was the case two years ago, and also that vessels wintering at Escanaba will load with ice for Chicago on their first trip.

THE SENATORIAL CANVASS IN OHIO TERMINATED
last evening in the unanimous nomination by the Republican caucus of Gen. James A.
Garfield, present Representative in Congress from the Nineteenth District, which he has represented continuously since 1863. The nomination being equivalent to an election, Gen. Garfield will if he lives enter the United States Senate on the 4th of March, 1881, as the successor of Allen G. Thurman for a term of six years thence following.
Republicans everywhere will congratulate Ohio and Gen. Garfield upon the result of the Senate election, the State in securing so able and worthy a representative in the Senate of the United States, and the man upon attaining to a position which he is so eminently fitted to fill.

A CONVERSATION is reported by Judge T.
J. Mackey, of South Carolina, as having occurred between himself and Gen. Grant, in which a comparison was instituted between the methods of warfare practiced by Gen.
Sherman and by Gen. Grant, respectively; and the latter is represented as pointing to some blackened chimneys as "Sherman's monuments," and as following up this remark with the statement that his (Grant's) soldiers never destroyed houses or private property. The conversation in question is very unlike Gen. Grant, who is not in the habit either of exalting his own military achievements or of belittling those of others; and least of all will anybody believe that Gen. Grant would by speech or by silence indorse such an attack upon Gen. Sherman.
Judge Mackey evidently has a very poor memory for conversations.

THE RECKLESS PARAPHERAL, who was wont to indulge in a little fling at the alleged looseness of the divorce laws of Illinois and Indiana, has a new field opened for his peculiar talent. Judge Anderson, of the Virginia Court of Appeals, did it with his little dictum. It appears that a maiden fair to see, a high-stepping F. F. V., married a reconstructed Rebel named Latham. When a girl, she admired him for his devotion to the Lost Cause. Lately he unhappily became infatuated with the idea that this country is a Nation with a capital N, and in proof of his deliverance from the slough of State-rights joined the Republican party. Her relatives, presumably his mother-in-law and others whom she could influence, immediately "shook" him as the sort of local Bennett Arnold, and made her life miserable by taunting her with the apostasy of him whose name she bore.
The radical change in her husband's politics thus became the source of an inexpressible incompatibility, and the divorce court was united to as a means of cutting the representatives.

gordian knot. The learned Judge in giving his opinion stated that the moral impiety of which the unfortunate Latham had been so perniciously guilty inflicted a stain upon her guileless soul which could only be deodorized by restoring her to the condition of single blessedness, thus affording her an opportunity to enter at will that "best society" from which he was ostracized by his utterly indefensible political course. Judge Anderson should now write a book on what he knows about "Unyoking Made Easy; or, the Law of Divorce as Applied in Virginia."

GEN. MARIANO IGNACIO PRADO, President of the Republic of Peru, left his Capital by stealth a short time since, and is now in New York, where he arrived yesterday. No definite reasons are given for his sudden departure, but there was a deeply-rooted impression in the minds of his Cabinet advisers that the President would be safer out than in the country, and that the sooner and more quickly he took his leave the better it would be for him. President Prado, it is said, will visit Europe for the purpose of obtaining an iron-clad that can whip the Chilian armored vessels, but from the fact that his Treasury is bankrupt, and European capitalists are not in the habit of loaning their funds without some prospect of a return, it is rather doubtful if he succeeds in raising much of a navy. There is every indication that the South American allies are beginning to realize the hopelessness of their cause, their recent damaging defeats having tended to demoralize their army and seriously discourage the civil authorities.

THE FIREBRAND ORDINANCE.

The City Council on Monday evening was guilty of a great mistake. Its action on the fire ordinance was a weakness for which there can be no apology or justification. It practically repealed the law prohibiting the erection of combustible pine buildings within the city limits. It has taken a long step towards destroying the great reform to which new Chicago owes so much of her greatness and prosperity. It permits the erection of two-story pine sheds, stables, and barns all over the city, and this is done with the full knowledge that to the ultimate exercise of this privilege the city is indebted largely to two configurations involving a loss of more than two hundred millions of dollars of property.

The arguments given for this license to erect inflammable buildings are not only weak but wholly absurd. The theory that a "poor man" is any more interested in and benefited by a fire than is a rich man is one of those clap-trap contemptible statements which are unworthy of repetition even in a Board of Aldermen. During the six years that the present ordinance has been in operation more progress has been made in the erection of permanent building improvements than in all the years of its existence. All over the city, in all the wards, and in all localities, buildings of all kinds—stores, dwellings, and barns—have been built of brick, or stone, or both.
These improvements have given a greatly increased value to all the property in all the neighborhoods in which they have been erected.
All these buildings have been erected under the solemn legal pledge of the City Government that their safety from fire should never be endangered by the construction of new wooden buildings. Under this pledge the permanent character of the buildings in all parts of the city has greatly advanced. Now the Council has authorized the erection of frame buildings sixteen feet high everywhere in the city. Every alley and side street, and the rear of all lots, will hereafter be filled with rows of these sixteen-foot-high fire-traps filled with hay, shavings, and other combustibles. Men who have erected substantial brick buildings under the legal assurance that no such shed or wooden building should ever hereafter be built in the city may find that their dwellings, or stores, or rows of brick and stone buildings can be founded on all sides with incendiary frame structures sixteen feet high, affording the fatest possible food for rapid and sweeping fire.

This ordinance of Monday night will prove a serious injury to the city. It will inflict a heavy annual tax upon the people in the shape of increased insurance rates. It will tend to arrest the building of substantial improvements, and subdue the entire property of the city to the danger of repeated and widespread conflagrations.

AS IT WAS IN THE COUNCIL, the smallest
probable advance in the rate of insurance
caused by the passage of this ordinance will
inflict a tax of $750,000 a year on the citizens.
This sum would pay for the erection of substantial brick barns in place of all these
wooden sheds and tenements,—because that
the will all become inhabited tenements all
experience shows is inevitable.

AS IT IS, the Council, the smallest
probable advance in the rate of insurance
caused by the passage of this ordinance will
inflict a tax of $750,000 a year on the citizens.
This sum would pay for the erection of substantial brick barns in place of all these
wooden sheds and tenements,—because that
the will all become inhabited tenements all
experience shows is inevitable.

AS IT IS, the Council, the smallest
probable advance in the rate of insurance
caused by the passage of this ordinance will
inflict a tax of $750,000 a year on the citizens.
This sum would pay for the erection of substantial brick barns in place of all these
wooden sheds and tenements,—because that
the will all become inhabited tenements all
experience shows is inevitable.

AS IT IS, the Council, the smallest
probable advance in the rate of insurance
caused by the passage of this ordinance will
inflict a tax of $750,000 a year on the citizens.
This sum would pay for the erection of substantial brick barns in place of all these
wooden sheds and tenements,—because that
the will all become inhabited tenements all
experience shows is inevitable.

AS IT IS, the Council, the smallest
probable advance in the rate of insurance
caused by the passage of this ordinance will
inflict a tax of $750,000 a year on the citizens.
This sum would pay for the erection of substantial brick barns in place of all these
wooden sheds and tenements,—because that
the will all become inhabited tenements all
experience shows is inevitable.

AS IT IS, the Council, the smallest
probable advance in the rate of insurance
caused by the passage of this ordinance will
inflict a tax of $750,000 a year on the citizens.
This sum would pay for the erection of substantial brick barns in place of all these
wooden sheds and tenements,—because that
the will all become inhabited tenements all
experience shows is inevitable.

AS IT IS, the Council, the smallest
probable advance in the rate of insurance
caused by the passage of this ordinance will
inflict a tax of $750,000 a year on the citizens.
This sum would pay for the erection of substantial brick barns in place of all these
wooden sheds and tenements,—because that
the will all become inhabited tenements all
experience shows is inevitable.

AS IT IS, the Council, the smallest
probable advance in the rate of insurance
caused by the passage of this ordinance will
inflict a tax of $750,000 a year on the citizens.
This sum would pay for the erection of substantial brick barns in place of all these
wooden sheds and tenements,—because that
the will all become inhabited tenements all
experience shows is inevitable.

AS IT IS, the Council, the smallest
probable advance in the rate of insurance
caused by the passage of this ordinance will
inflict a tax of $750,000 a year on the citizens.
This sum would pay for the erection of substantial brick barns in place of all these
wooden sheds and tenements,—because that
the will all become inhabited tenements all
experience shows is inevitable.

AS IT IS, the Council, the smallest
probable advance in the rate of insurance
caused by the passage of this ordinance will
inflict a tax of $750,000 a year on the citizens.
This sum would pay for the erection of substantial brick barns in place of all these
wooden sheds and tenements,—because that
the will all become inhabited tenements all
experience shows is inevitable.

AS IT IS, the Council, the smallest
probable advance in the rate of insurance
caused by the passage of this ordinance will
inflict a tax of $750,000 a year on the citizens.
This sum would pay for the erection of substantial brick barns in place of all these
wooden sheds and tenements,—because that
the will all become inhabited tenements all
experience shows is inevitable.

AS IT IS, the Council, the smallest
probable advance in the rate of insurance
caused by the passage of this ordinance will
inflict a tax of $750,000 a year on the citizens.
This sum would pay for the erection of substantial brick barns in place of all these
wooden sheds and tenements,—because that
the will all become inhabited tenements all
experience shows is inevitable.

AS IT IS, the Council, the smallest
probable advance in the rate of insurance
caused by the passage of this ordinance will
inflict a tax of $750,000 a year on the citizens.
This sum would pay for the erection of substantial brick barns in place of all these
wooden sheds and tenements,—because that
the will all become inhabited tenements all
experience shows is inevitable.

AS IT IS, the Council, the smallest
probable advance in the rate of insurance
caused by the passage of this ordinance will
inflict a tax of $750,000 a year on the citizens.
This sum would pay for the erection of substantial brick barns in place of all these
wooden sheds and tenements,—because that
the will all become inhabited tenements all
experience shows is inevitable.

AS IT IS, the Council, the smallest
probable advance in the rate of insurance
caused by the passage of this ordinance will
inflict a tax of $750,000 a year on the citizens.
This sum would pay for the erection of substantial brick barns in place of all these
wooden sheds and tenements,—because that
the will all become inhabited tenements all
experience shows is inevitable.

AS IT IS, the Council, the smallest
probable advance in the rate of insurance
caused by the passage of this ordinance will
inflict a tax of $750,000 a year on the citizens.
This sum would pay for the erection of substantial brick barns in place of all these
wooden sheds and tenements,—because that
the will all become inhabited tenements all
experience shows is inevitable.

AS IT IS, the Council, the smallest
probable advance in the rate of insurance
caused by the passage of this ordinance will
inflict a tax of $750,000 a year on the citizens.
This sum would pay for the erection of substantial brick barns in place of all these
wooden sheds and tenements,—because that
the will all become inhabited tenements all
experience shows is inevitable.

AS IT IS, the Council, the smallest
probable advance in the rate of insurance
caused by the passage of this ordinance will
inflict a tax of $750,000 a year on the citizens.
This sum would pay for the erection of substantial brick barns in place of all these
wooden sheds and tenements,—because that
the will all become inhabited tenements all
experience shows is inevitable.

AS IT IS, the Council, the smallest
probable advance in the rate of insurance
caused by the passage of this ordinance will
inflict a tax of $750,000 a year on the citizens.
This sum would pay for the erection of substantial brick barns in place of all these
wooden sheds and tenements,—because that
the will all become inhabited tenements all
experience shows is inevitable.

AS IT IS, the Council, the smallest
probable advance in the rate of insurance
caused by the passage of this ordinance will
inflict a tax of $750,000 a year on the citizens.
This sum would pay for the erection of substantial brick barns in place of all these
wooden sheds and tenements,—because that
the will all become inhabited tenements all
experience shows is inevitable.

AS IT IS, the Council, the smallest
probable advance in the rate of insurance
caused by the passage of this ordinance will
inflict a tax of $750,000 a year on the citizens.
This sum would pay for the erection of substantial brick barns in place of all these
wooden sheds and tenements,—because that
the will all become inhabited tenements all
experience shows is inevitable.

AS IT IS, the Council, the smallest
probable advance in the rate of insurance
caused by the passage of this ordinance will
inflict a tax of $750,000 a year on the citizens.
This sum would pay for the erection of substantial brick barns in place of all these
wooden sheds and tenements,—because that
the will all become inhabited tenements all
experience shows is inevitable.

AS IT IS, the Council, the smallest
probable advance in the rate of insurance
caused by the passage of this ordinance will
inflict a tax of $750,000 a year on the citizens.
This sum would pay for the erection of substantial brick barns in place of all these
wooden sheds and tenements,—because that
the will all become inhabited tenements all
experience shows is inevitable.

AS IT IS, the Council, the smallest
probable advance in the rate of insurance
caused by the passage of this ordinance will
inflict a tax of $750,000 a year on the citizens.
This sum would pay for the erection of substantial brick barns in place of all these
wooden sheds and tenements,—because that
the will all become inhabited tenements all
experience shows is inevitable.

AS IT IS, the Council, the smallest
probable advance in the rate of insurance
caused by the passage of this ordinance will
inflict a tax of $750,000 a year on the citizens.
This sum would pay for the erection of substantial brick barns in place of all these
wooden sheds and tenements,—because that
the will all become inhabited tenements all
experience shows is inevitable.

THE CITY.

GENERAL NEWS.

The temperature yesterday, as observed by Mensee, optician, No. 28 Madison street, Trap-Us Building, was as follows: 8 a. m., 22 degrees; 10 a. m., 32; 12 m., 31; 3 p. m., 45; 8 p. m., 42. Barometer at 8 a. m., 29.56; 8 p. m., 29.75.

Philip Dodge & Palmer gave their salesmen a complimentary banquet last evening at the Palmer House, and presented their salesman with a gold watch and chain.

The Ladies' Furnishing Society of the Sixth Presbyterian Church held a meeting Monday evening at which final reports were received from all the committees, and the business connected with the bazaar they conducted a few weeks ago was discussed. The summary showed Total receipts, $4,145.50; expenses, $400, leaving net profits, $3,745. The ladies are to be congratulated most heartily on this excellent result, and the bazaar will be remembered as the success which crowned their efforts.

A horse attached to J. Clancy's express wagon, while caring a load of "slops" to be carried on the Lake street at 10 o'clock yesterday, ran away through the Illinois Central track, and ran away through the corner of Harrison street and Third avenue, by which time the wagon was totally demolished, leaving a number of broken pieces and five buggies slightly damaged each of them.

The Society of the Nineteenth Illinois Infantry met last evening, and, after transacting some business, voted that the constitution that constituted that members could only be elected by ballot. It was also agreed to have a general election in the spring.

J. F. S. Smith was elected to the position. The only other business transacted was the appointment of a committee to receive the reports of the meetings, and the assigning of C. E. Herrick to read an original poem at the next meeting.

The office of the Hesperia Lodge, No. 411, A. F. & A. M., will be installed this evening at Masonic Temple, corner of Randolph and Dearborn streets. The officers will be installed by the Most Worshipful Grand Master of the State, T. T. Gurney, assisted by John O'Neill, D. G. M., Musical and other exercises appropriate to the occasion.

The following named ladies and gentlemen: Mrs. Waukesha, the Misses Sarah, Margaret, Anna, and Lizzie, Mrs. George L. Clark, Mrs. L. Schram, the Oriental Quartet, Miss S. Lansing, and Miss L. H. H. will be present. The Order of the Eastern Star is invited to be present.

Conover Mann yesterday held an inquest at the Stock-Yards upon John Royle, 49 years of age, who was run down while drunk at the Vineyard. The inquest was adjourned to the Stock-Yards; at No. 95 Wabash avenue upon James S. Boyce, 45 years of age, who was run down and killed by a Burlington & Quincy locomotive at the foot of Harrison street. He rode from Fort Street on his bicycle, which was in front of the head. This ticket will be pushed by the Custom-House at the annual meeting of the Club, which is to be held on the 15th instant. Mann will probably be a "galore," as the Logan faction which now controls the Club, was holding a meeting at the same time that Royle became a Republican. The other business was the nomination of a new president.

The officers elected by the Hesperia Lodge, No. 411, A. F. & A. M., will be installed this evening at Masonic Temple, corner of Randolph and Dearborn streets. The officers will be installed by the Most Worshipful Grand Master of the State, T. T. Gurney, assisted by John O'Neill, D. G. M., Musical and other exercises appropriate to the occasion.

The other business transacted was the appointment of a committee to receive the reports of the meetings, and the assigning of C. E. Herrick to read an original poem at the next meeting.

The office of the Hesperia Lodge, No. 411, A. F. & A. M., will be installed this evening at Masonic Temple, corner of Randolph and Dearborn streets. The officers will be installed by the Most Worshipful Grand Master of the State, T. T. Gurney, assisted by John O'Neill, D. G. M., Musical and other exercises appropriate to the occasion.

The following named ladies and gentlemen: Mrs. Waukesha, the Misses Sarah, Margaret, Anna, and Lizzie, Mrs. George L. Clark, Mrs. L. Schram, the Oriental Quartet, Miss S. Lansing, and Miss L. H. H. will be present. The Order of the Eastern Star is invited to be present.

hall. A committee was appointed to look into the matter.

After the appointment of some minor committees, and the voting of thanks to those who gave their services gratuitously at the late concert, the Board adjourned.

IRISH-AMERICANS.

THAT SPILT IN THE ORGANIZATION.

The split in the Irish-American Club is widen- ing daily through the influence of certain secret societies. The rooms of the Custom-House, which were set apart for the Custom-House wing of the Club, were used for several of these caucuses until THE TRIBUNE devoted some space to the gatherings, which the parties concerned denied ever having taken place.

A person in the name of Novak was especially vigorous in affirming that the notice of the meeting was untrue in every particular.

Some time ago Tom Keefe, Mike Hickey, and John Mullins, attachés of the Custom-House, put their heads together, and the result was the evolution of a new organization, which, it is said, is now in full swing.

The split seems to have been caused by the fact that the two wings of the club, which were to be separate, were to be merged into one.

The two wings were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.

The two wings of the club, which were to be merged into one, and the name of the new organization was to be the Irish-American Club.